

Global Strategies, Inc. Executive Protection Services:

Global Strategies, Incorporated is a high-end protective service and consulting firm dedicated to providing the best services to those clients who can afford our unique capabilities. Our company began with a simple concept: Take the best practices of top government protection agencies from around the world, discard those practices that were impractical, and meld the results into a private sector commercial service for a reasonable price. To accomplish this we brought together an elite team of private protection specialists whose training and methods of operation were molded by years of hands-on experience providing services in the most high-risk regions of the world.

GSI specializes in providing quality Executive Protection services our clients can depend upon. Whether the client is a head-of-state, corporate executive, foreign dignitary or in the entertainment industry, we aim to provide discreet, professional protective services. Our highly trained, experienced professionals focus on maintaining the safety and security of our clients and their environment without compromising their privacy. We understand the need to feel secure while pursuing everyday activities and that discretion is the key to our clients' comfort. Our protective service teams tailor activities to improve our client's working environments while maintaining the highest safety and security levels available in the private protection field.

Global Strategies, Inc. executive protection agents keep influential executives and at-risk individuals out of harm's way. Trained in accordance with U.S. Secret Service, British Scotland Yard, and South African Special Task Force protection principles, our agents specialize in proactive procedures designed to recognize, analyze, and neutralize risks before they become problems. Discretion, professionalism, and sound judgment are the hallmarks of each Global Strategies, Inc. employee.

Whether you're holding a stockholder's meeting, a promotional event or a press conference, GSI will ensure that your function proceeds smoothly by coordinating all security logistics, i.e., access control, placement of guard force, liaison with local law enforcement, preparation of emergency medical equipment and services, and egress contingency plans.

Our executive protection teams establish an operational command post or central command area where all planning, coordination and control of movements and actions of the team and their principals will take place. This function encompasses a full scope of logistical matters an EP team may face. At any given time, protectees, their family members, corporate security directors and protection team agents are able to remain informed and in control of the safety and whereabouts of all personnel.

When things get serious, whether within your domestic environment or on foreign soil, GSI is able to provide highly-trained and experienced agents to help deal with the awesome responsibilities during a kidnapping/hostage scenario. At GSI we understand that a corporation's most valued assets are their personnel. Through each step of this horrific process we advise and enable our clients to retrieve their personnel. At GSI, we recognize that the only goal during these times of crisis is to bring the individual back alive and safely. Our trained professionals aim to do just that.

At GSI, we recognize that information is quickly becoming one of the most valued commodities in business today. Our executive protection agents are trained to be aware of our client's industry and major events, changes or occurrences taking place within that industry. Our agents are able to provide protectees with detailed intelligence information on the client's local environment to include Threat Assessments, Foreign Area Studies/Country Briefings and Travel Advisories. We constantly remain informed on terrorist threats, crime statistics, and geopolitical events which could affect our client's well-being.
