

Security Consulting

Security Management Programs

Global Strategies, Inc. consists of security professionals who are highly trained in industrial security. We are able to advise and assist corporate officers and directors on the implementation of security management programs to better protect our client's assets.

Asset Protection Programs

To protect a company's overall assets including proprietary information, it is important to establish certain policies and procedures. GSI can either design a new asset protection program or evaluate and advise on existing procedures in order to ensure that the highest measures are taken to safeguard your assets.

Competitive Intelligence / Counter-Industrial Espionage

GSI is able to provide our clients with the information necessary to maintain a competitive edge; information that is gathered legally through open sources, or via proven intelligence gathering techniques. Our investigators and technicians ensure that proprietary information remains safe through technical countermeasure sweeps of facilities, executive residences and factory installations. We will point out your vulnerabilities and offer options to correct them.

Special Event Coordination

Whether you're holding a stockholder's meeting, a promotional event or a press conference, GSI will ensure that the your function proceeds smoothly by coordinating all security logistics; i.e., access control, placement of guard forces, liaison with local law enforcement, emergency medical equipment and services, and egress contingency plans.

Risk Analysis & Vulnerability Studies

Global Strategies, Inc. provides on-site evaluations of risks to assets, products, installations and personnel. Our consultants tailor reports and information based on our client's specific needs. Upon request, stability studies are conducted to ascertain the safety and security of our client's personnel and installations in overseas environments.

Foreign Area Studies

Using tested and proven intelligence reporting formats, GSI offers clients up-to-the-minute information and intelligence of their operating environment. From brief country surveys and threat assessments to in-depth analysis of groups and individuals, GSI provides vital information for the planning of crisis management and emergency contingencies.
